Introduction

The Local Organiser Role

2. The Local Organiser is a new role in UNISON's regions and branches. Staff in these posts will be an enthusiastic and flexible resource for organising at local and regional level. The focus of the job is on recruiting new members directly-one to one; or using simple issue based campaigning; carrying out leaflet drops; going to induction sessions; helping to draft local and one off recruitment materials. More than simple recruiters, this new generation of UNISON organisers link with regional organising teams and will use mapping and campaigning to help develop new activists at a branch level. The Local Organiser:
 - Arranges recruitment initiatives on Greenfield sites, regular pitches on employer premises, and at public events.
 - Extracts information from the Regional Membership Systems helping branches to decide where they should target their recruitment activities.
 - Evaluates the outcome of recruitment activities they have arranged to build an understanding of what works.
 - Contributes to the development of recruitment campaigns
 - Designs and make presentations to prospective members at Induction events.
 - Seeks to identify new activists they may meet during the course of recruitment events and provide them with the necessary information to enable them to participate in UNISON activities.
 - Gives basic advice to lay representatives, members and non-members.
 - Advises and assists branches with the arrangements and administration of recruitment campaigns, by helping draft publicity, carry out mail shots and advising them on the purchase of promotional goods
 - Works to recruitment targets providing regular reports on membership targets achieved and recruitment activities undertaken.
3. UNISON structures its work programme to provide for the systematic implementation of policies adopted by its democratic lay member structures. Local Organisers will play a key role in helping to achieve the targets arising out of the first of the four key objectives determined by the National Executive Council:

- Recruiting, organising and representing members.
- Negotiating and bargaining on behalf of members and promoting equality.
- Campaigning and promoting UNISON on behalf of members.
- Developing an efficient and effective union.

4. The key aims of the union as detailed in our Rule Book seek to:
 - i) Extend and promote our influence in the workplace and in the Community.
 - ii) Promote, safeguard and facilitate participation by all members in the union's democracy, with special regard to women, members of all grades, black members, disabled members and lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender members.
 - iii) Provide effective standards of service in the areas of representation and advice, information to members on the work of the union, the provision of financial benefits and the maintenance of educational facilities for members.
5. To further these aims, post holders have a strong commitment to the trade union movement and the ability to motivate potential members to join and participate in the activities of UNISON. They also have an understanding of equalities issues and commitment to building a diverse organisation. They must demonstrate a enthusiastic and proactive approach to recruitment which encourages, motivates and enthuses colleagues and lay member activists.
6. UNISON regions are currently undergoing a period of change to meet the union's developing recruitment, organising and campaigning agenda. Postholders must be willing to change and adapt to help and support lay activists to do likewise.
7. The allocation of work to the local organiser is the responsibility of the designated manager. Areas of work are annually reviewed in discussion with the local organiser to meet the needs of the organisation and services to branches and members.
